Volume 41

Linhvistychni Studiyi / Linguistic Studies is a peer-reviewed international collection of scientific papers founded in 1994 at Vasyl' Stus Donetsk National University. The collection is approved by HAC of Ukraine as a specialized one. Both Editorial Council and Editorial Board include highly qualified experts and researchers from leading academic institutions and universities from different countries. Linhvistychni Studiyi / Linguistic Studies welcomes original scientific theoretical and applied studies on various issues of modern linguistics, as well as cross-disciplinary researches.

The collection of scientific works "Linguistic Studies" is included in the list of scientific professional publications of Ukraine, which may publish the results of theses for the degree of doctor and candidate of sciences («Perelik № 1 naukovikh fakhovikh vidan' Ukraïny, v yakikh mozhut' publikuvatisya rezul'tati disertatsiynikh robit na zdobuttya naukovikh stupeniv doktora i kandidata nauk» // Byuleten' VAK Ukraïni. – 1999. – № 4; «Perelik naukovikh fakhovikh vidan' Ukraïni, v yakikh mozhut' publikuvatisya rezul'tati disertatsiynikh robit na zdobuttya naukovikh stupeniv doktora i kandidata nauk» // Byuleten' VAK Ukraïni. – 2009. – № 12; zatverdzheno postanovoyu prezidii VAK Ukraïni vid 18.11.2009 r. № 1 05/5; Nakaz № 515 MON Ukraïni vid 16.05.2016 r.; kategoriya «B» (Nakaz Ministerstva osviti i nauki Ukraïni № 409 vid 17.03.2020)

Remark. DOI is provided from 2017 to each article and the entire volume.

Carefully written and read materials which have not been published before and demonstrate the results of theoretical and empirical linguistic research within the main trends and innovation processes in the Ukrainian and other languages are accepted for publication.

The main criterion for evaluating the article is its quality. The submitted materials are evaluated regardless of the author's ethnic origin, religious beliefs, citizenship, and political views.

If the research is based on the methodology and / or scientific achievements of other scholars, this should be manifested in the paper. If the study uses scientific results obtained by other scholars, the article should contain references to them in a way acceptable to the author. The facts of the authors' scholarly cooperation with other researchers in the process of the article preparation should be reflected in the content and structure of the article.

Please send materials by March 25, 2021.

Materials are published in the collection "Linhvistychni Studiyi / Linguistic Studies" in Ukrainian, English, Bulgarian, Russian, Polish. Priority is given to articles in English.

FUNDS for the publication should be calculated in hryvnias at the rate of 2 USD (the current NBU exchange rate) per 1 page of the typewritten materials (2400 characters in the automated calculation). Materials submitted by doctors of science are printed free of charge. Articles written in professional academic English are published free of charge.

Funds for the publication are transferred ONLY AFTER THE AUTHOR RECEIVES A LETTER OF CONFIRMATION stating the acceptance of the materials submitted for publication (if necessary, please contact: ls.donnu.ukr@gmail.com).

The digital version of the submitted articles should be sent to: ls.donnu.ukr@gmail.com.

Tel. for information: +38 050 232 78 02 - Zahnitko Anatoliy.

REQUIREMENTS TO THE ARTICLES SUBMITTED

In accordance with the Resolution of the Presidium of HAC of Ukraine of 01.15.2003 No 7-05/1 "About the Increase of Requirements to Scholarly Journals Approved by HAC of Ukraine" (Bulletin by HAC of Ukraine. – 2003. – No 1) a scholarly paper is supposed to include the following elements: «outlining the problem on the whole and its connection with important scholarly or practical goals; analysis of recent studies and publications in the relevant sphere which serve as a basis for the author's research; outlining the issues of the relevant sphere which are considered in the submitted paper and which have not been dealt with before; formulating the purpose of the paper (setting the goal); presentation of the research results obtained with their full validation; conclusion and prospects of further research in the area». So, a scientific paper should include:

- 1) outlining the problem on the whole and its relevance;
- 2) analysis of scholarly research in this area;
- 3) purpose and tasks; object and subject of the research; description of the empirical material and methods used during the analysis process; scientific novelty, theoretical and practical value of the results obtained;
- 4) formulating the purpose of the paper (task setting);
- 5) presentation of the research results with complete validation of the data obtained;
- 6) conclusion and prospects of further research in this direction.

Each item must be highlighted with or without a number.

The article should contain both orcid.org and ResearchGate of the author (in case of the article having several authors, corresponding indexes should be provided for each author).

The authors submit one article per issue (the article should not be previously published in other periodicals) and are fully responsible for the originality of the text, the accuracy of the data, quotations, statistics, etc.

ARTICLES WHICH DO NOT FULFIL ALL REQUIREMENTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH HAC OF UKRAINE AND INTERNATIONAL SCIENTOMETRIC DATABASES (ISD) ARE NOT ACCEPTED.

Papers are submitted in electronic version in Word for Windows in the *.doc. format. Name of the file (only in Roman letters) must conform to author's surname, for example: petrenko.doc. A size of the article is from 20000 quire symbols (with spaces) (Menu – Service – Statistics).

The page margins are 2 cm (on each side of the page). Paper size is A4. Font Times New Roman, 12 point, “normal” (“ordinary”) style. If you have made use of any other font, you should send it in a separate file.

Line spacing is 1.5. Indentation for a new line is 1 cm. The text is printed without division of words. On the first line in the left-hand corner, you should print orcid.org, on the second line there must be ResearchGate of the author (authors), on the third line in the right-hand corner the name and surname of the author (authors) are printed in bold. There is an UDC-code (in ordinary script) on the next line on the left. There is an article name on the next line (centred, in bold). A summary in Ukrainian (5–10 lines) is printed in italics after one line. The next line contains keywords (in italics). The main text of the article starts one line after the summary (aligned in width).

Empirical material is printed in italics. Please, distinguish between a dash (–) and a hyphen (-): difference is scale and presence of spaces before and after dash.

Abbreviations such as XVIth c., initials for surnames (e.g., Ch. L. Barber) are typed with indissoluble space (keys Ctrl+Shift+space-bar pressed simultaneously).

Comments are made in automatic (Inset – Comments).

If there are diagrams in the article they must be grouped (View – Instruments – Drawing – Option of object. Keeping the key “Option of object” pressed, highlight the objects which must be united in a group and on the Instrument bar press the button Action and choose the command “Group”.

ІМЕННИКОВО-МОРФОЛОГІЧНІ ІДЕНТИФІКАТОРИ: СТРУКТУРНА ТИПОЛОГІЯ (ІМЕННИКОВО-МОРФОЛОГІЧНИЙ РІД)

Розглянуто особливості вираження іменниково-морфологічної ідентифікації зі встановленням закономірностей її вияву в межах морфологічних форм іменникового роду. Встановлено структурну типологію іменниково-морфологічних ідентифікаторів із внутрішнім диференціюванням одноелементних, двоелементних і трьохелементних іменниково-морфологічних ідентифікаторів. Констатовано, що в межах диференціації іменників за родами найпоширеніше виявляється одноелементний структурний ідентифікатор, що поступово втрачає свою силу через розширення функційного поля двох- та трьохелементних іменниково-морфологічних ідентифікаторів.

Ключові слова: іменниково-морфологічний ідентифікатор, одноелементний морфологічний ідентифікатор, двоелементний морфологічний ідентифікатор, трьохелементний морфологічний ідентифікатор, флексія, іменниково-морфологічний рід.

METHODOLOGY OF FUNCTIONAL PRAGMATISM AS THE MERGE OF ANTHROPOCENTRISM AND RELATIONISMUS

Розглянуто внутрішньотекстові функції прийменників із визначенням їх навантаження в художньо-белетристичних та публіцистичних дискурсивних практиках. Встановлено основні напрями мовносоціумного закріплення окремих прийменникових варіантів, схарактеризовано особливості синонімічного вияву прийменників, прийменникових еквівалентів, аналогів, розширення функційного тла лексем, в яких реалізовано 'у знач. прийменника'. З'ясовано співвідношення функційних видозмін прийменників, прийменникових еквівалентів з антропоцентричною та антицивілізаційною парадигмами, виявлено тенденції до розширення функційно-семантичної парадигми первинних прийменників.

Ключові слова: прийменник, прийменниковий еквівалент, функційно-семантична парадигма, антропоцентрична парадигма, антицивілізаційна парадигма.

References to the works mentioned in the text are put in brackets () and include the author's surname, year of publication (pages if necessary):

E.g., German linguist M. Pfister considers it as an absolute blend of all the high and the popular (mass) (Pfister 2001: 219).

The author must adhere to the following rules for completing references:

- a) references to a monograph (Автоненко 2015) or an article (Старх 2002);
- b) references to the corresponding page, to several pages which are placed sequentially, or to different pages (Франко 2012: 139, 143-144), (Strada 1985: 96, 101);
- c) references to works by one author published in different years – in chronological order (Мельничук 1979, 1998);
- d) references to works by one author published in one year (Голубенко 1990а, 1990b), (Потебня 1958а), (Потебня 1958b).
- e) in references to works written by several researchers, only the surname of the first author is indicated and the abbreviation like та ін./et al. is used. (Вихованець та ін. 2017: 325), (Hennig et al. 2006: 7–15);
- f) references to works by two or more authors (Lakoff 1990; Langacker 1991; Осипенко 1991);
- g) when referring to manuscripts, authors should use foliation (e.g. 2A-3B), not pagination, except in cases where the manuscript is paginated;
- h) the author's last name is printed in the original language in brackets, e.g., (Твердохліб 2015), (Sokolowski 1974), (Geeraerts 2001).

If the paper is written in a non-Latin alphabet (Ukrainian, Belarusian, Serbian, etc.) the author's surname / title of the work should be written in the original language in brackets when referring to it, e.g., “Дискурс – це ... комплексна лінгвістична структура...” (Іваненко 2000: 179).

If the source quoted does not have an author (e.g., UNESCO, Cross-cultural competencies: conceptual and operational framework. 2013. Web. February 12, 2016), its abbreviated name is given in brackets in quotation marks, e.g., Universality encompasses “elements common to all cultures – such as having a language or having values and beliefs” (“Intercultural Competences” 15).

If a multi-volume publication is quoted, specify the volume and page number in brackets, e.g., According to Dictionary of the Ukrainian Language in 11 Volumes, the concept refers to “formula, general notion, idea” (DUL 4: 275).

Quotations from researches in a foreign language, depending on the function they perform, can be submitted in the original language or in translation, but it is necessary to consistently adhere to one of these methods of quoting. If the quotes are given in the original language, the author can provide their translation in the footnotes.

REQUIREMENTS TO REFERENCES

The list of references should be presented in alphabetical order in accordance with State Standard (ДСТУ 8302:2015 «Бібліографічне посилання. Загальні положення та правила складання»).

The list of references should be submitted in a separate section, which is called References.

If the description of a bibliographic entry contains several lines, all lines except the first one should be shifted to the right by two characters.

In the References and Sources and Abbreviations sections, all bibliographic references which are in non-Latin alphabet must be transliterated to ensure that quotations can be traced in international databases.

Transliteration is given in square brackets, directly below the bibliographic entry.

Transliteration must be performed via an automatic transliterator available at: <https://www.transliteration.com/transliteration/en/russian/bgn-pcgn/> (an example of automatic transliteration for the Russian Cyrillic alphabet is given, for other alphabets, find the name of the corresponding language in the drop-down menu).

References in Latin alphabet are not transliterated.

References should be formed like this:

The list of References (References) should contain at least 8 positions.

The heading References is printed one line after the main text (in bold and centred).

Sources should be submitted under the title List of Sources (separately after the section References). Here, the same bibliographic rules should be followed as in the section References.

The heading List of Sources is printed one line after the list of references (in bold and centred).

The heading List of Abbreviations is printed one line after the List of Sources (in bold and centred).

REQUIREMENTS TO THE AUTHOR'S ABSTRACT

The submitted article must be supplied with the Abstract in English in a separate file (.doc/.docx), which should contain the following components: the article title (first line, in bold); the author's name and surname (second line, in bold); department / chamber, institution / organization, city, region / province, country; background; purpose; results; discussion, keywords (the name of each component must be typed in bold from new line, and the text in ordinary font). Vitae finishes the abstract. It includes the author's full name, degree, position, current employment place (for Post-Graduate Students the name of their specialty is required), private address, contact details (telephone number), research areas, e-mail (correspondence).

The abstract should be self-sufficient and understandable without reading the article, the text of the abstract should be coherent; it is highly recommended to avoid overusing the passive voice. The overview of the main research results and their scholarly significance should be consistent with the course of reasoning in the body of the article. The author's abstract in English SHOULD NOT BE A TRANSLATION OF THE ABSTRACT IN UKRAINIAN.

Only materials written in professional, high-quality, academic English (not automatic translation) are accepted for consideration. If the language of the materials does not meet the requirements stated, they are returned to the author for revision and re-accepted only with the confirmation of the English language quality, provided by a qualified translator or translation agency.

The author's abstract is expected to be from 150 to 300 words.

The file of the Abstract (in Latin alphabet) must contain the author's surname and the word "abstract" connected by the underscore, e.g.: petrenko_abstract.doc.

QUALIFYING AND CLASSIFYING SIGNS OF BILINGUALISM: ASPECTS, TYPES, METHODS

Anatoliy Pavlenko

Department of General and Applied Linguistics and Slavonic Philology, Vasyl' Stus Donetsk National University, Vinnytsia, Ukraine

Abstract

Background: The research of bilingualism is an acute issue in modern linguistics due to active promotion of its unequal manifestations and amplification of the functional load in various sectors of society. Generalization of conceptual and terminological findings in bilingualism allows to develop the appropriate models of their practical application.

Purpose: The purpose of the analysis is to determine the qualifying and classifying features of the bilingualism with classifications of aspects of the bilingualism study.

Results: Bilingualism is a practice of alternative use of two languages, as a consequence of civilized or intentionally directed (determined) interference or directed influence of languages (wider cultures). The main factors contributing to the emergence and development of bilingualism are development of economic, political, cultural, social relations between the linguistic communities which use different languages; territorial proximity which facilitates migration processes, etc. Multidimensionality of bilingualism determines the need to study it in linguistic, psychological, cognitive, sociological, philosophical aspects.

Differentiation of the basic kinds of bilingualism unfolds on the level of bilingual skills expression (true and false bilingualism); according to the number of speech actions and language skills level (receptive, reproductive and productive bilingualism); according to the degree of extensiveness (total, territorial, group, individual bilingualism); on the basis of languages functional load in bilingual situations (symmetrical and asymmetrical bilingualism). The main methods of bilingualism study are contrastive analysis, analysis of mistakes, introspective methods.

Discussion: The theory of bilingualism including bilingual studies is generally replenished with new methods, techniques and research methods in statics and dynamics. The issue of bilingualism, its theoretical understanding and practical expression requires the coverage of different aspects and establishment of spatial fillings of bilingualism with its active and passive discover.

Keywords: bilingualism, language, multilingualism, diglossia, sociolinguistic portrait, contrastive analysis, method of mistakes, introspective methods.

The author(s) of the papers submitted are expected to provide contact details IN ENGLISH (AND UKRAINIAN) including their full names, degree, position, current employment place, private address, telephone number(s), e-mail, and research interests. This information should be provided in a separate file in *.doc format. The name of the file (in Latin alphabet) must contain the author's surname and the word "vidomosti" connected by the underscore, e.g.: petrenko_vidomosti.doc.

If the article is written in English or any other foreign languages, the author must also submit its title in Ukrainian in the file with information about the author.

Articles are subject to double "blind" peer review by experts in the relevant areas of research in terms of their structural, content, and technical requirements (including requirements posed for articles published in international scholarly journals indexed in ISD). Articles which meet these requirements will be recommended for publication by the editorial board. The article can be returned to the author for revision or for further improvement.

Editorial Team have the right to reject articles which do not meet international standards set for publications in scholarly periodicals indexed in ISD.

The authors of articles are fully responsible for the scholarly content of the articles.
